Acknowledgements

1. Introduction:
   Confronting global trouble 13

2. Lost in International Relations theory:
   Subjectivity, ethics and responsibility 29

3. Lost in definitions:
   The making of Srebrenica into a global problem 41

4. Lost in revisionism:
   The relationality of truth 61

5. Lost in instrumentalism:
   The depoliticisation of military action, diplomacy and genocide 75

6. Lost in hard knowledge:
   Uncertainty, intelligence failures and the “last minute genocide” of Srebrenica 93

7. Lost in social order:
   State narratives and the memory of trauma 113

8. Lost in codification:
   Resisting state narratives and the strive for healing, closure and objectivity 129

9. Lost in closure:
   Visions for the future 151

Bibliography 159

Samenvatting (Dutch Summary) 173